Executive Summary

1762 14th Street presents the rare opportunity to acquire a first-class owner user compound located within Santa Monica's West Olympic Corridor, amongst some of the most prolific tech and media firms in the world.

The property recently underwent a full renovation totaling more than $1,600,000. The main building contains 6 executive offices, 2 smaller offices or file rooms, a large conference room, full kitchen, 4 bathrooms, I.T. room, storage rooms as well as large built-in work spaces. 12-foot-tall windows, frameless glass offices, and 17-foot tall exposed wood beam ceilings make the interior bright and expansive. 4 separate HVAC systems allow for efficient cooling / heating zones for each office. The large kitchen includes Caesarstone countertops and new appliances including a washer / dryer. The property also offers a Buyer the opportunity to generate additional income in the front 920 SF building along 14th Street, separate from the main 3,996 SF structure. With minor renovations, this front building is situated well for a small retail or office user.

This is an opportunity to gain an architecturally significant creative conversion and timeless asset that rarely comes available in the area.
